

Hello,

For years, I've had the honor of sharing my concert style keynote presentations with hundreds of thousands of professionals like yourself. Most of these keynotes take place because of "seed planters..." people like YOU who learn about or experience what I do and inform others. I would love to work with you and your team to bring my unique training experience to your organization or conference.

I guarantee my presentation will be a tremendous fit, as I tailor my messages to your theme or focus. Be sure to visit, view and share the links you will find on my website (www.jerrymills.com). Then contact us to discuss ideas or ask questions. If you haven't done so, be sure to complete a request form on my "Contact" page.

An administrator asked during a call, "What will people walk away with after attending your presentation?" Your attendees will walk away renewed, inspired and grateful that you've provided this unforgettable training experience. Your audience will rate my programs as highly as any they have ever attended. I call my Don't Doubt the Dream presentation "an emotional defibrillator." Those who attend will never look at challenges and challenging people or situations the same way again. This multi-sensory encounter of research, personal experience and original songs creates a deep and lasting impact that can only lead to greater success for all!

So visit the website, view and share this wealth of info with your planning team and let's work together to bring this Extraordinary Experience to your next event. Also, if you want to help take my programs to the next level, view this video about customizing my "Come Join Us" tribute video for your audience.

Thanks for your interest! I hope we can follow up soon.

Don't Doubt the Dream!
